The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes Adventure III – A Scandal in Bohemia

Holmes thought Irene Adler the best.
Mind and beauty, she topped all the rest.
For the picture he tried,
But to Europe she hied.
With her Norton, for a life marriage-blessed.

Sandy Kozinn

Irene was a beauty in her day
And over Holmes' heart she held sway
But he suffered alone
Because he stayed at home
And she left for the States to sell AmWay

Karen Olson

A young woman whose name was Irene-ee,
Had a beauty that had to be seen-ee;
The king gave up hope
When she did elope
While our Sherlock still thought her a queen-ee

Bill Dorn

First, he disguised as a drunken groom
Next, as a clergy to gain the room
Watson sent in the smoke
Irene dressed as a bloke
The photo kept the king from a doom
