The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes Adventure V – A Case of Identity

On the sidewalk poor Mary did dither,
As her thoughts flew hither and thither,
 Why did Angel disappear?
 Was he dead? Oh, the fear!
Holmes knew Windibank's love was just blither.

Sandy Kozinn

Mary Sutherland longed for the marriage bed
But turned over her money to stepfather instead
 Until she met a man at the Gasfitters Ball
 And his attentions soon held her in thrall
But he did a runner before they could wed

Karen Olson

When Hosmer just plain disappeared,
'Twas just as our Sherlock had feared,
 The strange man would not,
 Forever be caught,
Which left weak-eyed Mary's heart seared

Bill Dorn

Mary falls hard for glasses tinted
Black side whiskers and whisper hinted
 Although two letters typed
 Hosmer a man disliked
Holmes threatened his head to be dented
