

The Return of Sherlock Holmes

Adventure XXXVI – The Adventure of the Three Students

1. Why not Oxford or Cambridge?
2. Are English Charters a giveaway or a false clue?
3. What common interest did Holmes and Watson share with a Greek tutor and lecturer?
4. Did Soames pay for the consultation?
5. Would the police have taken the case?
6. What indicated the passage was in Greek? In English?
7. Why a large knife?
8. Did the evidence suggest a muscular suspect?
9. Was the bedroom window an escape path?
10. Was competing for the scholarship compulsory?
11. Was there any reason for the reputation of Indians to be quiet and inscrutable?
12. Would an idler worry about a scholarship test?
13. If the tea tray prevented locking the door, how was the door unlocked?
14. When had the students had their evening meal?
15. Why only three suspects?
16. Was the printer or his delivery man known to the students?
17. Did Ras return and leave before Gilchrist arrived?
18. What made the proofs identifiable at a distance when seen through a window?
19. Why such sharp spikes?
20. Does one look in to ask a question without knocking and being invited in?

Ralph Edwards, BSI

April 28, 1995