

LIMERICKS

The Return of Sherlock Holmes Adventure XXXVII – The Adventure of the Golden Pince-Nez

Anna followed the coconut mat;
She would free her lost lover, but that Didn't work. In a flash
 Holmes found her, with ash,
For she'd stabbed Smith (Willoughby) flat.

Sandy Kozinn

Smith was almost dead as can be
To identify his killer he said, "It was she."
 Sherlock observed Coram smoke and eat
 A woman with a thick nose he reported to the heat
Coram's wife took poison to set herself free

Karen Olson

A big clue was a broken pince-nez,
It meant someone could have lost their way,
 Holmes dropped ashes galore
 Just all over the floor,
And saw someone disturbed where they lay.

Bill Dorn

Poor young Smith is murdered with a knife
"It was she" as he let loose his life
 Floor mats of coconut
 Overrun with ash glut
Holmes finds Anna who lived life of strife

Steve Mason

