

LIMERICKS

The Return of Sherlock Holmes

Adventure XXXVIII – The Adventure of the Missing Three-Quarter

Playing rugby is such a grand life.
On the field there is much joyous strife.
 The three-quarter, though, cried,
 When he found she who'd died.
Ever after he'd be missing his wife.

Sandy Kozinn

Godfrey was the star of Rugby when he came
But he disappeared on the eve of the big game
 Pompey was a tan and white drag-hound
 And showed Holmes where the man was found
But Godfrey's excuse wasn't lame

Karen Olson

Cyril Overton was gone alas!
Which meant Cambridge the ball could not pass,
 For his wife had just died,
 So he'd gone off to hide
At the foot of the bed of the lass.

Bill Dorn

Player Staunton is not able to play
A bearded man has led him away
 Oil to find the back
 Pompey set on the track
Their secret marriage Armstrong would not betray

Steve Mason

